government while he was being beaten - this file is under "Internal Security", with "Russia" and "Cuba" added. The FBI interviews Ruperto Pena, brother of Orest, owner of the Habana Bar, and Ruperto disputes and disproves the imaginings of Carlos Bringuier, and Ruperto's interrogation also is listed under "Internal Security", again with "Russia" and "Cuba" added. Orest Pena, who informed the FBI of those he considered pro-Castro, whose anti-Castroism is memorialized on the front pages of the New Orleans papers, but who objected to what the FBI was doing and who told me that in return he was threatened by the FBI, who swore under oath that Bringuier hates the United States and challenged the Commission to give them both lie-detector tests, is also under "Internal Security", "Cuba" added. But Bringuier, darling of the radical right whose beliefs and propaganda he mouths, who misinformed the FBI - he is not. The FBI's 12/11/63 report on him follows, immediately before the report on Orest, where the reader can see this for himself, as he can with the long series of reports about and on interrogations of Bringuier printed earlier. Not one of these bears the notation, "Internal Security", with or without "Russia" or "Cuba". Nor are those whitewashing "reports" on the "onvestigation" of the Cuban training camp that follow designated "Internal Security", although these camps operated in open violation of U.S. law and declared national policy. Yet one was raided by this same FBI, which confiscated a considerable quantity of stolen munitions but does not go into this in the reports. Is there any wonder the assassination is not solved and that the investigation left more questions than it answered?

How was the assassination investigated? This file shows another aspect, the philosophic approach of the FBI, the police mind at its politically most ignorant, the doctrine of the radical right that permeates it, dominates it. This report on Fernando Fernandez, who wanted to escape punishment for open violation of U.S. law, who was depressed by his own association with the anti-Castro forces and had decided they were inaapable of accomplishing anything, who had been beaten with impunity by these forces, with the knowledge of the U.S.
